

Born to Race TV series to start on New Year's day

The first episode of the "Born to Race" documentary based on the MRRDA series Juniors, will be screened on New Year's Day (Thursday 1) at 7pm on Fox Sports One. So there will be no better way to see in the New Year and shake the cobwebs from the night before than to put the feet up and be enthralled with the racecraft and riding skills of this new batch of future Aussie champions.

The MRRDA Series racing has already been well received by all and sundry and now with this doco style series a different take has been put on it with more feature stories in each episode

Episode 2 will be broadcast one week later on the same channel at the same time so put these times in your diary

Born To Race

- Episode 1 Thursday 1-1-09 Fox Sports 1 @ 1900 hrs (7pm)
- Episode 2 Thursday 8-1-09 Fox Sports 1 @ 1900 hrs (7pm)

When we get the dates for the rest of the series you will all be the first to know!

DVD's for both the race style show already seen and the "Born to Race" documentary will be available in the New Year via the MRRDA website. More news on that when it comes to hand and we've worked out the finer details with AVE.
